

Doctor of Pharmacy Key Program Outcomes

I. Accreditation Status

- ✓ The program is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE) through June 30, 2025. The program is fully compliant with all 24 standards.
- ✓ West Virginia University is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission through 2024.

II. Graduation Rates

| Year | Entering Class Size | Advanced Standing Admission | Graduation Class Size | Graduation Rate* |
|------|---------------------|-----------------------------|-----------------------|------------------|
| 2023 | 74                  | 0                           | 68                    | 91.9%            |
| 2022 | 79                  | 0                           | 76                    | 96.2%            |
| 2021 | 89                  | 0                           | 84                    | 94.3%            |
| 2020 | 71                  | 0                           | 70                    | 98.5%            |

*On time graduation rate

III. Licensure Exam Pass Rate

| Year | NAPLEX (first-time test takers) at WVU | NAPLEX (first-time test takers) National Data |
|------|--|---|
| 2022 | 71%                                    | 79%   |
| 2021 | 88%                                    | 82%   |
| 2020 | 93%                                    | 86%   |
| 2019 | 92%                                    | 87%   |

IV. PHAR 858: Comprehensive Assessment of Practice

- Course Requirement to ensure readiness to begin experiential rotations

| Years     | Passage Rate (100%) |
|-----------|---------------------|
| 2022-2023 | 100%                |
| 2021-2022 | 99.3%               |
| 2019-2020 | 100%                |

V. Student Placement (Class of 2023 as of graduation)

